DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. In response to the Advisory Action from 8/27/2008, the applicant has submitted an Supplemental Amendment After Final, filed 9/19/2008, amending independent claim 19 (previously indicated as including allowable subject matter, see Final OA from 5/19/2008, Page 15) to fully incorporate the subject matter of its parent claims and canceling all other remaining claims to place the application in condition for allowance (Amendment, Pages 6-7). In response to such claim amendments, the examiner notes that claims 19-20 are allowable over the prior art of record with regards to the below given reasons for allowance.
2. In response to the cancellation of claim 2 in the Amendment from 8/18/2008, the examiner has withdrawn the previous 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph rejection directed to indefinite claim language.
3. The examiner notes that the examiner's signature on the IDS from 12/23/2005 was inadvertently not included. Thus, an updated form of this IDS has been attached, which now includes this signature.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 19-20 are allowable over the prior art of record.

5. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

With respect to Claim 19, the prior art of record fails to explicitly teach or fairly suggest, either individually or in combination, a method for producing a translation from a document featuring human-readable text in a first language and machine-readable self-clocking glyph codes as set forth in claims 19 in combination with a translation editing/correction code as part of the self-clocking glyph codes that perform disambiguation by first framing a series of questions to a person fluent with the first language, using the translation software answers to the questions to make choices of word sense and sentence patterns in the second language, and then recording the answers in the code so the fluent person's knowledge is later available for guidance when a translation is undertaken. Although Ito (U.S. Patent: 6,330,529) discloses including correction code in a document for translation (Col. 6, Lines 51-67), Ito fails to explicitly teach that the correction code is derived from the disambiguation process recited in claim 19. Lamoure (U.S. Patent: 5,416,312) establishes that including a translation of document text in a machine readable code on the same document is well known in the art (Col. 2, Lines 15-40; Col. 2, Lines 14-40; Col. 8, Lines 16-22; and Figs. 4-5), but does makes no mention of any type of correction code as is set forth in claim 19. Thus, the prior art of record fails to explicitly teach or fairly suggest the invention of claim 19.

Claim 20 further limits a claim containing allowable subject matter, and thus, also contains allowable subject matter by virtue of its dependency.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
